FIRST PERSON

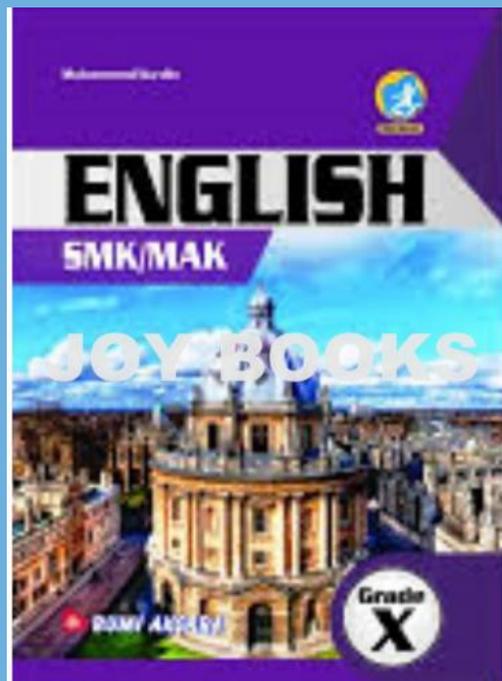

A Ticket from The Police

I Have a special experience in dealing with the police. I once visited Medan and stayed in my colleague's house . As it was my first visit to the city. Johan, my friend, took me to have a sight- seeing around the city of Medan. Johan drove the car and I sat beside him. I did not know if we had breached the traffic regulations but the police stopped our car and gave a sign that we had to stop at the side of the road. Johan opened the car window and a tough tall police officer appeared. Johan had to obediently produce his driving license to respond to the police officer's order. In a gruffly manner the police officer withheld the license and was about to give him a ticket to pay the fine blaming that we had crossed the road when the red light was on. Johan, being accustomed to such a situation in his home city, reacted in a calm manner. He took a Rp. 10.000 bank note from his pocket, went out the car and shook hands with the police officer. I did not hear the words uttered by Johan but the police officer smiled at him. Johan returned to the car. The police officer waved his hand and let us proceed to our destination. It appears to me that such a practice to deal with the police is common in Medan.
