Indonesia imports oxygen as hospitals battered by Covid-19

Jakarta • Tue, July 6, 2021.

Indonesia is sourcing emergency oxygen for virus patients from neighboring Singapore and calling for help from other nations including China with the country slammed by its deadliest Covid-19 wave, the government said Tuesday. Around 10,000 concentrators -- devices that generate oxygen -- were to be shipped from the city-state with some arriving by a Hercules cargo plane earlier on Tuesday, officials said.

"We have communicated with Singapore, China, and other sources" for help, Coordinating Maritime Affairs and Investment Minister Luhut Binsar Pandjaitan said, quoted by AFP.

"We will also order (oxygen) from other countries if we still feel that the supplies are insufficient."

TEMPO.CO, Jakarta - TikTok launched a marketing program on Thursday to attract more advertisers with tools to measure the success of ad campaigns that run on its popular short video app. The program will allow brands and marketers to run ad campaigns on its app, that at present has about 20 certified partners including digital marketing platform MakeMeReach and data analytics company Kantar, TikTok said in a blog. TikTok's advertising business is still nascent, but the company owned by China's ByteDance has become a popular place for brands that aim to reach the app's young audience, who flock to it for lip-syncing, dancing and comedy sketch videos. ByteDance has been ordered by U.S. President Donald Trump to divest TikTok's operations in the country amid security concerns over the personal data it handles. Microsoft Corp and Oracle Corp are among the suitors for the assets. However, China's new rules around tech exports mean the sale of TikTok's U.S. operations could need Beijing's approval

A. NEWS ITEM TEXT

a. Social function

News item text is a text which inform the readers, listeners or viewers about events of the days in chronological order. The order in news item can be based on time, place or the events themselves. The social function of news item is to inform readers, listeners or viewers about events of the day which is considered newsworthy or important.

b. Generic Structure

- Main Events / Newsworthy event(s): it recounts the event in summary form.
- Elaboration / Background event(s): they elaborate what happened, to whom, in what circumstance
- Resource of Information (Source) : it contains comments by participants in, witnesses to and authorities expert on the event

c. Language features

- Using action verbs
- Using saying verb
- Using passive voice
- Using adverb
- Using Past tense in explaining news events (But if it is a fact that until now still happen or still in the form of fact, then can use simple present tense)

B. DIRECT AND INDIRECT SPEECH

When we want to describe what someone said, one option is to use direct speech. We use direct speech when we simply repeat what someone says, putting the phrase between speech marks:

- Paul came in and said, "I'm really hungry."
- It is very common to see direct speech used in books or in a newspaper article.
- For example:
- The local MP said, "We plan to make this city a safer place for everyone."

As you can see, with direct speech it is common to use the verb ‘to say’ (‘said’ in the past). But you can also find other verbs used to indicate direct speech such as ‘ask’, ‘reply’, and ‘shout’. For example:

- When Mrs Diaz opened the door, I asked, “Have you seen Lee?”
- She replied, “No, I haven’t seen him since lunchtime.”
- The boss was angry and shouted, “Why isn’t he here? He hasn’t finished that report yet!”

Indirect Speech

When we want to report what someone said without speech marks and without necessarily using exactly the same words, we can use indirect speech (also called reported speech). For example:

- Direct speech: “We’re quite cold in here.”
- Indirect speech: They say (that) they’re cold.

When we report what someone says in the present simple, as in the above sentence, we normally don’t change the tense, we simply change the subject. However, when we report things in the past, we usually change the tense by moving it one step back. For example, in the following sentence the present simple becomes the past simple in indirect speech:

- Direct speech: “I have a new car.”
- Indirect speech: He said he had a new car.

All the other tenses follow a similar change in indirect speech. Here is an example for all the main tenses:

DIRECT SPEECH	INDIRECT SPEECH
He said, “I live in the city center.” (present simple)	He said he lived in the city center.
He said, “I’m going out.” (present continuous)	He said he was going out.
He said, “I’ve finished.” (present perfect)	He said he had finished.
He said, “I’ve been studying a lot.” (present perfect continuous)	He said he had been studying a lot.
He said, “I arrived before you.” (past simple)	He said he had arrived before you.
He said, “I had already left.” (past perfect)	He said he had already left. (remains the same)
He said, “I’ll be there at 2pm.” (future simple)	He said he would be there at 2pm.
He said, “I’m going to call Alan.” (be going to)	He said he was going to call Alan.

The same rule of moving the tenses one step back also applies to modal verbs. For example:

DIRECT SPEECH	INDIRECT SPEECH
She said, "I can swim."	She said she could swim.
She said, "I must go."	She said she had to go.
She said, "I may drive there."	She said she might drive there.
She said, "Shall we start?"	She asked if we should start.
She said, "I'll call you."	She said she would call me.

Using 'say' or 'tell'

As an alternative to using 'say' we can also use 'tell' ('told' in the past) in reported speech, but in this case you need to add the object pronoun. For example:

- He told me he was going to call Alan.
- They told her they would arrive a little late.
- You told us you'd already finished the order.

Changing Time Expressions

Sometimes it's necessary to change the time expressions when you report speech, especially when you are speaking about the past and the time reference no longer applies. For example:

- Direct speech: "I'm seeing my brother tomorrow."
- Indirect speech: She said she was seeing her brother the following day.

Here are some other examples:

- Direct speech: "I had a headache yesterday."
- Indirect speech: You said you'd had a headache the day before yesterday.
- Direct speech: "It's been raining since this afternoon."
- Indirect speech: He said it'd been raining since that afternoon.
- Direct speech: "I haven't seen them since last week."
- Indirect speech: She said she hadn't seen them since the previous week.

C. PASSIVE VOICE

In the passive voice, however, the subject is no longer performing the action of the verb. Rather, it's being acted upon by the verb. Put another way, the subject of a sentence in the passive voice is no longer the "doer" of the action, but the recipient of the action. Meanwhile, what was the subject of a sentence in the active voice (the "doer") becomes the "agent" in the equivalent passive voice sentence.

As you read through the following example sentences, you'll start to become an active voice expert.
