A. Read the following text quickly!

THE LEGEND of KELUD MOUNTAIN

Brawijaya was the king of Majapahit Kingdom. He had a daughter, her name was Dyah Ayu Pusparani. She was very beautiful. Many young men fell in love with her. However, she always refused their marriage proposals. King Brawijaya was sad. He really wanted to see his daughter to get married. "You have to get married soon, my daughter," said King Brawijaya. "I'm getting older, I know you are looking for a great husband. I have an idea, I'm going to hold a competition. If a man can stretch Kyai Garudayaksa's bow and lift Kyai Sekardelima's gong, he will be your husband," he continued.

Princess Dyah Ayu Pusparani was speechless. She knew her father really wanted her to get married. She just hoped that she would marry a great man. She knew the bow and the gong had supernatural power. So the winner must had supernatural power too.

One by one men tried to stretch the bow and lifted the gong. No one succeeded. They were injured, their hands and backs were broken. King Brawijaya planned to stop the competition. He thought no one could win the competition.

However, before he stopped it, a man came to him. "Don't stop the competition now. I haven't tried it yet." Everybody was looking at him. He was very strange. His head was unlike human's head. He had a bull's head. "What's your name?" asked the king. "My name is Lembusura." answer that's man. Then he tried to stretch the bow, he succeeded. The next test, he had to lift the gong. Again, he succeeded. Everybody applauded. They all were amazed by his power.

However, Princess Dyah Ayu Pusparani was sad.. She never thought that she would marry a man who had a bull's head. King Brawijaya was also sad. But he had no choice. He had to keep his promise.

Later, he asked his men to prepare a wedding ceremony. The ceremony was getting closer and Princess Dyah Ayu Pusparini was really sad. She really wanted to cancel the wedding. She was thinking very hard. Finally she had an idea. She told his father. "Father, ask Lembusura to make a well on the top of Kelud Mountain. The well is for me to take a bath,” said Princess Dyah Ayu Pusparini. King Brawijaya understood the plan. He asked Lembusura to go to the top of Kelud Mountain. Lembusura agreed.

When he arrived, Lembusura dug the ground. He was digging until the hole was deep. Suddenly, some soldiers pushed him into the hole. They buried him alive. Lembusura was helpless. He could not do anything. Before he died, he cursed the King. “King Brawijaya, wait for my revenge! I will destroy your kingdom!” cursed Lembusura.

Everybody was so scared. They really believed that Lembusura would revenge to the kingdom. Until now, every time Kelud Mountain erupts, people say that Lembusura is doing his revenge!
