The Early Life of Barack Obama

[Orientation]

Barack Obama was born on August 4, 1961 in Honolulu Hawaii. His father was a Kenyan named Barack Obama, Sr (Senior). His mother was a White American named Ann Dunham. His parents separated when he was two years old and later divorced. His father returned to Kenya and saw him only once more before he died in an automobile accident in 1982.

[Events]

After the divorce, Obama's mother then married an Indonesian, Lolo Soentoro. The family then moved to his stepfather's home country in 1967. Obama attended local schools in Jakarta until he was ten years old.

Obama returned to Honolulu in 1971. He lived with his maternal grandparents until his graduation from high school in 1979. After that, Obama moved to Los Angeles and studied at Occidental College for two years. He then transferred to Columbia University in New York City.

[Re-orientation]

Obama entered Harvard Law School in late 1988. He was selected as an editor of the law review based on his grade and writing competition. In 1990, he became the first Black president of the Harvard Law Review. He graduated with J.D. magna cum laude from Harvard in 1989.

J.K. Rowling

J.K. Rowling is a British author and screenwriter best known for her seven-book Harry Potter children's book series, one of the most popular book and film franchises in history.

Joanne Rowling, who goes by the pen name J.K. Rowling, was born in Yate, Gloucestershire, England on July 31, 1965. Joanne grew up surrounded by books as her mum and dad loved reading. From an early age Joanne wanted to be a writer. She wrote her first book at the age of six – a story about a rabbit called Rabbit. Then when she was eleven she wrote a novel about seven cursed diamonds and the people who owned them. Joanne went to school at Wyedean Comprehensive School and then went on to study French and Classics at the University of Exeter.

J.K. Rowling conceived the idea of Harry Potter during a train ride in 1990. By the time she finished writing it seven years later, her mother died, she divorced and lived in near poverty. When she was shopping it out, she was so poor that she couldn't afford a computer or even the cost of photocopying the 90,000-word novel, so she manually typed out each version to send to publishers. It was rejected dozens of times until finally Bloomsbury, a small London publisher, gave it a second chance after the CEO's eight years-old daughter fell in love with it. Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone quickly became a best-seller on publication in 1997. As the book was translated into other languages, Harry Potter started spreading round the globe, and J.K. Rowling was soon receiving thousands of letters from fans.

The Harry Potter books have broken many records. In 2007, Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows became the fastest-selling book ever, selling in the first 24 hours in the UK. The Harry Potter series is now published in 80 languages, and over 500 million copies have been sold across the world. J.K. Rowling is a billionaire now, and she has received many awards and honors, including an OBE for services to children's literature, France's Legion d'Honneur, and the Hans Christian Andersen Award.
